

Ocean Grown Testimonials - and Wheatgrass grown with OG.

1. After first having met you and your partners, I have become more convinced each time I deal with your products that they are superior to anything I have experienced. As you know, I have built a business with Carmichael's Gourmet Restaurant in Sarasota as chef and co-owner over the past four years, and I have attended numerous national and international food shows. With continuous exposure to various qualities of food, and having won the National Gourmet Chef competition last year, I feel my evaluation of superior food products is of some merit. With many years in this business, I say without hesitation that your herbs and vegetables are the best in quality, taste, appearance and shelf life of any that I have ever seen. Your method of growing food in ocean water is so unique and is also so ecologically sound.

David M. Sproules Carmichael's Restaurant

2. When using wheatgrass juice, grown with Ocean Grown, I lost twenty pounds (198 to 178. At 51 I am now the same weight as when I graduated high school) without effort or change in exercise or habits. Simply the cravings went away and I never felt those times of impulsive hunger anymore.
3. From the age of eleven I have suffered from a nail fungus that evidently is resident on most of the population, who have, fortunately enough, immunity to keep it at bay. Consequently I have had no toe nails from the age of 11 to 48. Now at 51 I have them again! Better late than never, and a totally unexpected result from OG wheatgrass!
4. This ones more subtle but none the less appreciated: I need much less sleep and now feel rested and ready to go at the crack of dawn and can work late into the night, and all from drinking some OG wheatgrass each day.
5. I have followed a vegan diet, and been a daily consumer of fresh vegetable/fruit juices for the last several years – but I had not been consuming wheatgrass juice. After growing, juicing, and consuming my own wheatgrass the last three weeks (4-8 oz. of juice daily), I have noticed a significant difference in three areas: weight control, appetite suppression, and energy. First, at age 55, even with eating right and exercising, I have noticed a tendency for my weight to creep up past my ideal of 170 lbs. But since drinking wheatgrass juice daily, my weight has stabilized at 170. Second, I don't eat as much, and have noticed an absence of cravings. The wheatgrass juice seems to satisfy my nutritional demands. Third, I have noticed a welcome change in my energy level. I don't get drowsy during the day and seem to need a bit less sleep. When growing my wheatgrass for juicing, I have watered it with OceanGrown™ Solution, and can only theorize that the additional minerals in the OG Solution are 'empowering' the wheatgrass. I plan to make wheatgrass juice (grown with OG Solution) a regular part of my nutrition regimen.

William Kruidenier, Charlotte, NC